HORIZONTECH, INC. ANNOUNCES EXPANSION INTO DOWNTOWN DANVILLE

~ Data Processing and Clerical Service Business announces 100 new jobs and a $1.1M investment in the Tobacco Warehouse District~

DANVILLE, Virginia, June 11, 2007 – Horizontech, Inc., a corporate and government outsourcing service company, announces its' expansion into Downtown Danville's historic Tobacco Warehouse District. Horizontech, Inc. specializes in mailroom, document scanning, data entry, long term document storage, shredding, web-based inquiries and custom web applications to customers across the U.S. Horizontech, Inc. currently has other U.S. facilities located in Roxboro, NC, and Springfield, IL, and offshore sites located in India and China. Downtown Danville competed against other locations throughout NC and VA to become Horizontech's 5th location.

Located in the heart of the Tobacco Warehouse District at 417 Bridge Street, Horizontech will hire over 100 employees over the next four years and invest over $1.1M into a historic district that is experiencing tremendous growth and change. "I've said it time and again – the best thing you can do for a community is to create good jobs and that's exactly what Horizontech, Inc. is announcing today. One Hundred quality jobs for the City of Danville and for the Tobacco Warehouse District, a district that has been a part of a $53M public/private revitalization effort. Horizontech will only build on the momentum we are seeing today in the district and be a catalyst for future growth," said City Manager Jerry Gwaltney.

Dave Zook, President of Horizontech, Inc., became interested in this district nearly 3 years ago when he began working with the City of Danville's Economic Development team. "The Tobacco Warehouse District provides an unforgettable character that I knew would impress my clients – and the space I need for creating complimentary operations for our Roxboro facility. This Tobacco Warehouse District building will allow us to build a first class office for production, sales and programming, as well as secure warehouse space for our clients' document storage. This location and facility are critical to the growth strategy of our business," said Zook.

Zook is planning an extensive renovation and expects to occupy the building in 4 to 6 months, at which time he will start his hiring process for data entry, document scanning, prep clerks, customer service, supervisors, programming and sales. Resumes for interested employees may be sent to jobs@horizontech.com.

Horizontech, Inc. joins Luna Nanoworks as the second major employer to locate in the Tobacco Warehouse District.
